DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3, 4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 7, "the first suspension includes a plate spring" is inaccurate (reference is made to Figure 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lutz (U. S. 5,679,087).

With respect to claim 1, Lutz discloses a suspension system for a vehicle, comprising: a motor (13') that is disposed between a vehicle body (1) and a knuckle (11') for driving the wheel (5')(see Figure 2); a first suspension (7', 9') that is provided between the wheel (5') and a vehicle body (1) for elastically supporting the wheel of the vehicle with respect to the vehicle body; a second suspension (29') that is provided between the motor and a vehicle body (1) for elastically supporting the motor and providing independent movement of the motor with respect to the vehicle body; and a power transferring mechanism (17', 19') that is provided between a rotating shaft of the motor (13') and a wheel shaft of the wheel for transferring power from the motor (13') to the wheel while permitting relative movement of the motor (13') with respect to the wheel (5').

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lutz (U. S. 5,679,087) in view of Nagaya (U. S. 2004/0099455).

With respect to claim 2, Lutz discloses the claimed invention except the suspension that includes a spring element and a damper element. However Nagaya discloses a suspension (33b) as shown in figure 50. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention Lutz such that it comprised the suspension in view of the teachings of Nagaya so as to improve stability of the vehicle as well as ride comfort.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3, 4, 5 and 6 are allowed.
8. Claim 7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed on 11/21/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to claim 1, Applicant acknowledged, that Lutz discloses a second suspension between the motor (13') and the vehicle body (1). Examiner disagrees with Applicant's alleged theory of the elastic rubber mount (29') appearing to be reasonably fixed and would not provide independent movement of the motor with respect to the vehicle body. Examiner notes that, the elastic rubber mount even though fixed, does elastically deforms due to the vibration or movement of the motor, hence providing independent movement with respect to the vehicle body as claimed. Therefore, Examiner maintains rejection.

Conclusion

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
